TOLL OF TRAIN WRECK IN NEW MEXICO, EIGHT

Two Of Victims Of Unusual Accident Are Unidentified

Tucumcari, N. M., Aug. 30—(AP)—In a flooded arroyo, usually dry, the Golden State Limited lay today, mute evidence of the tragedy which took eight lives and injured more than two score.

Repair crews waited for abatement of the torrent to salvage the wrecked cars and repair the bridge while a board of inquiry was called to investigate the wreck.

Physicians cared for about 35 of the injured here in hospitals or hotel rooms. Most of those able to travel left last night for the east on a special train made up here and routed via Dalhart, Tex.

The revised death list, with two victims still unidentified: C. J. Croft, engineer, Tucumcari; James Randall, fireman, Tucumcari.

W. H. Varley, Quincy, Ill. Mrs. Varley.

P. D. Cook, Southern Pacific employee, El Paso, Tex.

Sister Mary Cecilia, Tucson, Ariz. Two unidentified women.

Of the injured, Sister Mary Rosa of Tucson, Ariz., was not expected to live. She suffered a skull fracture, severe cuts and was badly scalded.

Woman Describes Wreck Mrs. Anna Heinz, 45, Los Angeles, one of the passengers who was riding in the first chair car, described the wreck.

"Everyone was stunned for a few minutes," she said. "The train was in the front of the car, we were terribly burned by steam."

"It took us 15 minutes to get out of the car. There was a woman pinned in the entrance and we had to get her free before anyone could get out. The woman in the seat next to me was seriously injured but I was fortunate and was not so badly hurt."

"I never saw such heroic action in my life as there was in our car. There was hardly an outcry. Everyone helped everyone else. Only the two Sisters in the front of the car were burned by the steam. It didn't come to the middle of the car."

Railroad officials said the line probably would be opened to traffic Friday morning. They said the coaches in the arroyo would have to be cut in half before they could be removed because of their location in relation to the remaining track made it next to impossible to lift an entire car.

WASHINGTON IS 24th STATE TO DEMAND REPEAL Handicap Put On Repealists Failed To Have Effect

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 30—(AP)—Two thirds of the 36 states needed to erase the 18th Amendment from the Constitution were lined up today, Washington following 23 others into the repeal column. None of the states which have voted favored retention of prohibition.

Only one legislative district, in rural eastern Washington, voted dry on the basis of available returns. The district will have only two of the 99 delegates who will meet October 3 at Olympia to ratify the decision of the voters.

The popular vote from 1924 of the state's 2,682 precincts rolled up a total of 316,064 wet ballots to 132,359 cast for dry candidates. The statewide total, however, had no bearing on the outcome, as delegates were chosen by legislative districts, an election arrangement which wet leaders attacked during the campaign.

Repealists contended the district method was put over by a dry bloc in the Senate which they alleged forced this concession as the price of their support in providing for the repeal election. The asserted repeal handicap, however, was not apparent in the result, for while the final returns might switch an isolated district or two from the wet to the dry side, there was no possibility the retentionists could cut in materially on the overwhelming majority of wet delegates.

In Milwaukee where Senator Long had gone before news of the fracas leaked out, Long issued a statement in which he said that he had been "ganged" in the club washroom by about four men, one of whom wielded a knife, "or something sharp."

The version gradually leaking out from club members and guests, however, was that Long had offended a man in the washroom and that that man, without any aid, had knocked the Senator down. One club member said he saw Long rush from the washroom with both hands over his face and with blood streaming down his shirt front. Friends placed him in a taxi and took him to his New York hotel where he was given medical attention for a two inch cut over one eye.

TIRADE REPUDIATED Milwaukee, Aug. 30—(AP)—Delegates to the national encampment of Veterans of Foreign Wars went on with their convention business today inclined to dismiss Senator Huey Long's outburst against the press as a personal quarrel which did not reflect their opinion.

Although the Senator preceled his speech here yesterday with a caustic tirade against Milwaukee newspapers because of the attention they had given the now famous cut over his left eye, the convention record on record as sorry it all happened.

Admiral Robert E. Coontz, the Commander in Chief of the organization, in a statement issued last night through Barney VanJusky, editor of "Foreign Service," and publicity director of the encampment, expressed regret at the Senator's attack. The statement said: "The officers and members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars regret that an attack upon the Milwaukee press by Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana should have interrupted temporarily an otherwise splendid reunion. Senator Long's expressions of opinion represented only his views, not those of the V. F. W."

This stand was concurred in by E. H. Schill, delegate from the Sixth District, which comprises Louisiana, Alabama, Mississippi, and Tennessee.

The convention itself gave a "roaring expression of approval and thanks to the newspapers for the fine way they have cooperated on encampment business."

RUMOR POLICE CHIEF MAN WHO SMASKED 'HOOEY'

"Accused" Official Grins And Makes His Denial

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 30—(AP)—The Brooklyn Eagle says today it has learned from an authoritative source that the man who smacked Senator Huey Long at a Long Island party Saturday night is Chief of Police Steve Webber of Port Washington, a former boxer and Army drill sergeant. Chief Webber, when asked about the matter, smiled and denied he had struck Long.

Chief Webber, a man of more than 200 pounds, has a local reputation as a skilled boxer and trainer of amateur boxers.

The Sands Point Club on the outskirts of Port Washington, where the Senator was knocked down by a man whose identity the Louisiana "Kingfish" did not learn is within Chief Webber's district.

Since the fight, concerning which the utmost secrecy was maintained by members of the club and guests at the charity function to which Senator Long was invited, there has been considerable speculation as to the identity of the man who laid the southern Senator low.

For a time there was general belief that a prominent New York architect was the man, but he finally satisfied questioners that this was a mistake.

Grins As He Denies Chief Weber said to have shown little surprise when he was told the spotlight of curiosity had swung upon him but he insisted that his denial be used if a story was carried. He grinned as he made his stipulation.

ROCKFORD THUG, AWAITING TRIAL IS FOUND SLAIN

Body Found On Meridian Highway South Of City Today

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 30—(AP)—Nick Misuraca, 23, reputed alcohol runner awaiting trial on three felony charges, was found shot to death at the side of the Meridian Highway, 3 miles south of Rockford today. He had been dead since midnight, Coroner Walter Julian said.

Five bullets had pierced his back at the back of the neck and three others shattered his skull. His hands were still in the pockets of his leather jacket, indicating, authorities said, he went for a typical gangland "fix" with supposed friends. They believe he was shot from the rear seat of an automobile.

Misuraca had been bound over to the Stephenson county grand jury on a charge of participating in a Freepoot meat market robbery. He also faced trial in Winnebago county on a charge of contributing to a girl's delinquency. Yesterday he was arraigned for automobile larceny.

COUNCIL VOTES FOR AN ASPHALT STREET SURFACE

Commissioners Campbell And Tyler Oppose Such Action

An adjourned meeting of the city council was held yesterday afternoon at the city hall at which time several important subjects were presented and acted upon. An ordinance amending the present amusement ordinance was passed by the unanimous vote of the council. The license fee for opera houses with a seating capacity of 800 or more seats being reduced from $250 to $200.

Some opposition was voiced to four local improvement ordinances which were presented to the council for final action before being filed in the county court. In voting upon the passage of the ordinance which is proposed to supply the business district with a new ornamental lighting system, Commissioner George Campbell voiced objection and voted against the measure.

Money Not Provided In explaining this position Commissioner Campbell who is in charge of the Department of Finance, told the council that the proposal called for the additional expenditure of about $2,000 annually, and emphasized the fact that the budget for the current fiscal year had been drawn, that the additional sum had not been provided for and for this reason he opposed the additional expense to the city.

The ordinance providing for the resurfacing of several streets in the business section with an asphalt substance was opposed by Commissioner Cal G. Tyler when the roll was called and Commissioners Tyler and Campbell voted against the passage of the ordinance which provides for the widening and resurfacing of Galena avenue. The proposal for a municipal athletic field in the west end of the city received the unanimous vote of the council. The petitions covering the four projects and the assessment rolls will be filed in the County Court for public hearing within a few days.

A resolution extending until May 1934 the loan of $2,500 made by the city to the Dixon Civic band fund several months ago was adopted by the unanimous vote of the council.

Seek Landing Site Near Chicago For German Zeppelin

Chicago, Aug. 30—(AP)—F. W. Von Meister, American representative of Dr. Hugo Eckener, commander of the Graf Zeppelin, was in the city today surveying possible landing sites for a proposed visit of the Graf to the World's Fair in October.

If the flight is made, Von Meister said, Dr. Eckener planned to arrive here between Oct. 25 and 28 from Pernambuco, Brazil, following a flight from Friedrichshafen, Germany, and would stop long enough to take on passengers and mail for Germany.

The proposed visit of the ship would mark the first time that a dirigible had ever moored in Chicago. Von Meister said the route of the flight over the United States would carry the Graf over Miami and Akron, O.

ELECTRIC RATE IN NUMBER OF TOWNS IS CUT

Nearby Communities Included In New I. C. C. Orders

Chicago, Aug. 30—(AP)—Residents of a number of downstate cities and towns today faced the pleasant prospect of seeing their total electric light bill cut about $30,000 annually due to an order by the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Places affected in the order issued yesterday include Savanna, Mt. Carroll, DeKalb, Sycamore and the following Springfield suburban territory: Breckenridge, Berlin, Berry, Burkhardt, Curran, Farmington, Rochester, Salisbury and Spaulding. Besides Savanna and Mt. Carroll the adjacent rural districts of Thompson and Chadwick also are included.

The order, the Commission said, was directed at the Central Illinois Light Company and the Northwestern Illinois Utilities, the serving companies. Included in the DeKalb-Sycamore territory, which is supplied by the Central Illinois Company, also are the towns of Clare, Cortland, Elburn, Emden, Malta and Maple Park.

Benjamin F. Lindheimer, chairman of the commission, said the reductions would be effective September 1, and would average from 10 to 12 per cent and would be exclusive of a 3 per cent federal tax to be assumed in the future by the companies. In this alone he said consumers would be saved $7,500 a year.

Efforts To Rescue Three Boys From Ledge 400 Feet Up Steep Cliff At Lake Placid In Vain

Adirondack Lodge, Lake Placid, N. Y., Aug. 30—(AP)—Sandwiches, water and oranges were lowered over a dizzy cliffside today to three boys, marooned on a narrow ledge of rock 400 feet high since yesterday morning.

The package of food dangled at the end of a 1,000 foot rope from the top of the sheer rock side of Wallace Mountain, and was finally caught by the youths.

Because of sharp rocks which threatened to sever the rope, no attempt was made to hoist the stranded youths to the top.

AUTO BUILDER'S PLANS UNKNOWN OUTSIDE PLANT

Johnson Says Maybe People Will Put "Clamp On" Him

Big Bay, Mich., Aug. 30—(AP)—Henry Ford, on vacation at the Huron Mountain Club, near here, today declined to discuss statements made in Washington by Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, Recovery administrator, that "maybe the American people will crack down on Ford" if he does not obtain the blue eagle.

"I have nothing to say at all about the NRA," Ford told his questioner. He declined to answer any questions about his further plans and would not say whether he plans a statement when he returns from his vacation.

DELAY RETAIL CODE Washington, Aug. 30—(AP)—A delay until the middle of next week on the master code intended to blanket the millions of retail workers over the land was indicated today as Arthur D. Whiteside, a Deputy Administrator of the NRA, presented a revised version to retailers representatives for consideration.

Work on this widespread wage and work hour code has assumed dominant importance at the NRA, where the other chief topic today was the failure of Henry Ford to indicate this attitude on the code embracing the gigantic automobile industry.

Hugh S. Johnson, NRA Commander, had the task of preparing a report for the President on what he knows as to why Ford has had nothing to say so far. The manufacturer has until September 5 to act to get a blue eagle.

The recovery chief said bluntly that Ford either would subscribe to the automobile code or "not get the blue eagle."

Predicts "Crack Down" "I think maybe the American people will crack down on him by putting their blue eagles on other cars," Johnson told newsmen regarding the automobile magnate.

The retailers code was described as altered in many respects from previous drafts, but not drastically. The text was withheld.

As the group of executives representing the nation's largest retail establishments began consideration of the new charter, which would include drugists and grocers, if the details can be worked out satisfactorily, Whiteside gave them until next week to agree. He indicated that on Wednesday the code was intended to be in the hands of President Roosevelt for promulgation. Some 5,000,000 or more workers are said to be affected.

New efforts to agree on a code for grain exchanges were undertaken today by their representatives and officials of the agricultural adjustment administration headed by George N. Peek.

For the third time they conferred to get clear exactly what "reforms" Peek is insisting upon after his recent assertion that the exchanges must "clean house or the government will step in."

Peter B. Carey, president of the Chicago Board of Trade, who headed the exchange delegation, said the trade is "dissatisfied" with the present limit on daily fluctuations in the prices of grain, five cents for wheat, barley and rye; four cents for corn and three cents for oats.

Buying Power Missing Some NRA officials were saying privately that the wage-raising agreements and permanent codes of fair practice do not yet appear destined to create sufficient purchasing power to keep ahead of higher prices resulting from the greater costs which business is undertaking through NRA. Expansion of credit through the Reconstruction Corporation was planned to help business bear these higher costs until mass purchasing can take over the job.

Jesse Jones, Reconstruction Corporation Chairman, was back at his desk after conferring with Roosevelt. He declined comments on the President's proposal for advancing credit to aid NRA industry.

After failing in several efforts to reach the marooned trio from the bottom of the cliff, members of the rescue party said they believed rock ledges might have given way after the boys. William La Due, Robert Glenn and Tyler Grey, all of Plattsburgh, reached the shell and could go no higher.

While rescuers were helpless during the night, the boys huddled together to seek shelter from chilling blasts that swept the cliff. The temperature was down to the freezing point and they were in their shirt sleeves.

Maniac's Spree With Rifle Ended By Police Bullets As He Threatens To Kill Child

Chicago, Aug. 30—(AP)—Police bullet ended Joseph Stassi's maniacal spree today. Stassi, recently released from a psychopathic hospital, was shot down as he was alone in a room with a four-year-old girl, managing her with his rifle.

The arrival of officers ended an hour of terror for tenants of the building in which Stassi lived. His wife told police that her husband, frequently afflicted with persecutory delusions, leaped from his bed this morning and seized his rifle, imagining someone was threatening him.

WARSHIPS SENT TO FOOCHEW AS REDS NEAR CITY

American And Japanese Governments Order Action

FOOCHOW, Fukien Province, China, Aug. 30.—(AP)—American and Japanese warships steamed towards this city today to protect nationals of those two countries from an increasing red menace.

As a result of the Communists' swift incursion into North Fukien and their capture of Yenping, a number of American missionaries fled here and others in nearby Kienning were endangered.

United States Consular authorities asked the State Department to send ships of the Asiatic fleet to protect the American colony.

A Washington dispatch said an American warship had been ordered to proceed to Foochow. The gunboats Tulsa and Sacramento were at Swatow and Hong Kong, only a short steaming distance from Foochow.

Two Japanese destroyers and one cruiser were en route to protect the large Japanese colony and property interests here.

Meanwhile, a dispatch from Nanchang said General Chiang Kai-shek, leader of an anti-Communist expeditionary force with headquarters there, announced 100,000 Mexican dollars would be paid for the head of either Chu Teh or Mao Chingtung, the principal Communist leaders who have for weeks been causing the government endless trouble.

All foreigners were said to have evacuated Yenping before the invaders entered it.

Formal Opening Of New Exhibit At The Library

Public Is Invited To Attend Sunday: Tea To Be Served

The general public of Dixon and vicinity is invited to attend the public opening of the rare exhibits of valuable collections at the Dixon public library Sunday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock. Mrs. Florence Plummer, White of this city, member of the high school faculty and an authority, is completing her task of assembling the many displays which have been collected at the library for many years, and placing them in such a manner that they may be appreciated by the interested public.

The formal opening of the exhibits has been carefully arranged with a receiving committee consisting of the following: Mayor G. C. Dixon, Amos H. Bosworth, president of the library board; Superintendent A. H. Lancaster of the public schools; J. B. Lennon, vice president of the library board; Commissioner Cal G. Tyler of the city council; Mrs. Margaret Schenck, librarian and her assistants; Miss Ruth Morris and Miss Grace Ortesien.

The women members of the library board and the wives of the other members will form a committee who will serve tea during the hours of the public reception.

The Dixon public library possesses a rare collection of fossils and other valuable exhibits which excel those of many of the large museums of the country. Particularly is this true of the late Dr. Everett collection, which has been sought after many times by officials of the Field Museum in Chicago and other of the foremost collectors of the country. In some of the departments, the Dixon library is the possessor of the most complete collections in the United States.

This fine and rare geological collection which has been stored at the library for many years has been carefully arranged by Mrs. White, who has spent many weeks in selecting the various displays. Beginning from ordinary clay, the exhibit presents the development of shale, slate, sandstone, or different formations which are largely native and have been collected from the locality of Green Rock, Castle Rock and the Devil's Backbone. The display continues, showing other formations of quartz, limestone, marble, granite, coal, graphitic to the hard Alaskan diamonds which were swept down through the Rock River valley during the glacial age. The glacial show compositions of quartz, chalcedony, agate, moonstones, flint, Jasper, calcite, spar, mica and lava.

In another set of display cases are to be seen the various rare cave products, petrified woods, fossilized plant leaves and sea weeds. In the department for reptaculites are to be seen the flower sponge which is found almost exclusively in the district of Galena, and which is much sought after by collectors throughout the world. The collection of mushrooms, sponges is the largest in the United States. Another section displays a collection of corals which are likewise greatly in demand by the large museums throughout the country.

The most perfect specimens of trilobites, which are native to the Rock River valley and have been collected from this vicinity, and which are now extinct, having existed many millions of years ago, are to be found in the Dr. Everett collection, together with many fossils.

Band Will Play Request Program Friday Evening

Thirteenth Concert Of This Season At The Court House

The Dixon Civic band will render its thirteenth concert of the summer season Friday evening at the court house square for which Director Russell Mason has announced another of the popular all-request programs to start promptly at 8 o'clock. The concert numbers will include the march, "On the Mall"; a first tenor, Eugene Lebre, second tenor and Bob Fulmer, bass, singing, "Love Song of the Nile"; and Gene Lebre sings a new favorite, "I've Got to Sing a Torch Song" as a solo. The program which consists entirely of numbers which have been requested by music lovers of Dixon and vicinity is as follows:

March, "Einzug der Gladiatoren" (Thunder and Blazes)
Frick-Laurendau
Overture, "Oberon" by Carl Maria von Weber
(a) "My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice" (Samson and Dallah)
Camille Saint-Saens
Cornet Obligato, Mr. Mackeman
(b) American Patrol
F. W. Meacham
Suite, "Indian Summer"
Mayhew Lake
I. At Dawn
II. Dance of the Pumpkins
III. Love Song
Baritone Obligato, Mr. Hammer
IV. At Twilight
Waltz, "L'Estudiantina"
E. Waldteufel
Selection from the light opera, "The Student Prince"
Sigmund Romberg

The following notes explain the numbers on the program. The Overture, "Oberon" by Carl Maria von Weber is probably his most famous work. It is based on the fairy theme of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer-Night's Dream." The introduction (Adagio Sost-nuto) depicts a scene in an enchanted forest. Oberon, who is king of all the fairies calls them from their play and to a march-like theme they trudge away. A sudden fortissimo chord breaks the magic spell of the forest and announces the Overture proper (Allegro Con fuoco) which concludes with the stirring aria "Oh Ocean, Thou Mighty Monster." The whole tune is replete with brilliant scale passages, lovely melodies and dramatic instances. This Overture was the contest number at the Chicago Land Music Festival. This is the first performance by the Dixon Civic Band.

"My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice" the central aria from Camille Saint-Saens Biblical opera "Samson and Dallah" is undoubtedly the most beautiful love song ever written. When Dallah sang "Come Yield With Me to Love's Fond Emotions" Samson was so impressed that he submitted to the famous hair cut, which incidentally led to his downfall. The solo part (cornet) is played by Mr. Mackeman.

Do Not Forget Hands This Fall

Don't forget your hands when you plan your fall beauty schedule. Your hands should be white and smooth. Hand lotions and bleaching creams will go far toward improving the texture of your skin.

Poised hands are an asset to any woman. Learn to hold them quietly in your lap when you are sitting still. Don't fold and unfold them dozens of times while you are talking to someone. And don't fuss with your clothing. It is irritable to watch a woman who is constantly picking at her dress, patting her hair or rubbing the arms of the chair.

There is something restful about a girl who sits down calmly and retains her poise. Poised hands are as important as a poised body. If you want to make your hands flexible and graceful, try pulling imaginary taffy several times a day. Bring all your finger tips close together when you move your hands in toward each other. Spread them wide when you have reached the end of the taffy.

Imagine that you are shaking water from your finger tips. Let your hands be perfectly limp and relaxed. It stretches and relaxes all the muscles in your hands and fingers. Never wear gloves which are too tight. Your hands won't actually look smaller and they'll be cramped and red when the gloves are removed.

Miss Pearl Miller of South Bend, Ind., who has been visiting her sister, Miss Miller of the firm of Chase & Miller, will leave Friday for Chicago to attend the Century of Progress, before returning home.

W. R. C. Meeting on Monday of Interest

Mrs. Jones, the president, announced that jelly would be made at the hall as usual, to be sent to the various homes. She also spoke of the district convention that was to have been held September 14 and which was postponed, the date to be announced later.

Mrs. Eastman told of the school of instruction she attended in Chicago.

Commander Richardson spoke of the Soldiers and Sailors reunion held at Oregon recently. He told how much he enjoyed it, and how very cordially the Oregon people treated all who attended. Three comrades were present from the Dixon post. Several members of the Corps also told of enjoying this reunion.

Business being all taken care of, the meeting closed in regular form.

LIBERALISM.

The old-fashioned conservative is not happy these days, and the extreme radical never has been happy; but it is doubtful if either of these groups is getting half the misery that is falling in the lap of a certain kind of doctrinaire liberal.

The conservative can at least reflect that he controlled the government for upwards of a decade. The radical can always cock his ear for the rumble of tumbrils down the streets of the distant future. But there is a certain kind of liberal to whom the present era seems to be bringing nothing but confusion and disappointment.

To be sure, the actions that this liberal has always demanded of his government are being taken. The program that he has clamored for for years—or something strikingly like it—is being put into effect. The conservatives are in full retreat, all along the line, and they haven't yet found a rallying point.

But the tragedy, to the doctrinaire liberal, is that all of this being done in the wrong way by the wrong people. The change came before he could pronounce his blessing upon it. He had just got through proving that nothing of consequence could be expected from the present administration, when it proceeded to take the wind out of his sails by adopting his whole program.

What has our liberal been demanding, all of these years?

Well, he has called for a "planned economy." He has wanted federal laws to protect union labor in the leading industries. He has wanted the New York financial powers drastically curbed. He has wanted the government to crack down on the power trust. He has wanted vast sums spent by Uncle Sam on public works. He has wanted a systematized federal employment service. He has wanted to see people like Frances Perkins, Ickes and Richberg in important government positions. He has wanted an administration that would place human rights above property rights.

Every one of these goals has been reached. Things that until recently looked like remote possibilities for the millennium are now in actual operation.

But our liberal got left at the post. Change caught him napping. Fate dealt him a hand from the bottom of the deck. And his unhappiness, these days, is heart-rending to observe.

MYSTERY IN REAL LIFE.

An unemployed engineer in a middle western city recently gave the police a perplexing puzzle by being found, lifeless, along side a lonely road with a series of stab wounds in his back and a dose of poison in his stomach.

It looked like murder, at first; but the police finally concluded that the man had killed himself and had arranged things to look like murder because of some final impish whim. This theory, the officers said, was strengthened by the fact that a detective story was found beside the man's body.

But a real detective story fan might easily make just the opposite deduction from this fact. There is nothing a mystery addict hates so much as the novel which presents a puzzling homicide and then, in the last chapter, discloses that it was really a suicide. If the man in this case was actually fond of that kind of literature, could he be expected to ape a plot which, if he found it in a book, would fill him with a consuming rage?

GEN. JOHNSON'S FUTURE.

News that Gen. Hugh S. Johnson will probably resign from his position as recovery administrator sometime late this fall is likely to provide the ordinary citizen with conflicting emotions.

It is highly gratifying, of course, to learn that the general expects the program to be so complete and well-established that he will not be needed more than a few weeks longer. The mere fact that he is looking ahead to retirement indicates that a great amount of success has crowned his efforts.

But most Americans, undoubtedly, will be sorry to see him step down. He has been a tremendously useful public official; he seems, besides, to be one of the most likeable men the government has ever employed. It won't seem quite right, somehow, not to have breezy Gen. Johnson on the job at Washington.

Fashionable dress from decade to decade pretends that woman's shape most magically alters. . . . Under all the pretenses and improvements, though, we remain from century to century most reassuringly—or depressingly—the same.—Margaret Lane, English writer.

Wise work and foolish play is a sure means of success. Every business woman when making up her budget should have on it an item of extravagance, and in making up her time schedule should allow a period of mischief.—Catherine Oglesby, magazine editor.

In a rapidly changing world, wisdom cannot consist of mere adherence to tradition.—Bertrand Russell, philosopher.

THE TINYTIMES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The Tintines clung to the net. "We make a heavy load, I'll bet," said Scouty. "Gee I hope the diver will not let us drop."

"We've had real fun down in the sea, but now dry land appeals to me. Fresh air will seem real strange, lads, if we ever reach the top."

"There is not a thing to fret about. The diver is a fine old scout," snapped Duncy. "I am sure that we will soon be safe and sound."

"The diver said he'd pull us out. He'll keep his word, without a doubt. It won't be very long until we're all up on the ground."

The diver, in the meantime, was a very busy man, because the six Tintines made a heavy load. He pulled with all his might.

"I cannot give up now," said he, "although this pulling is hard on me. Gee, but I will be tickled when the lads come in sight."

About ten minutes slowly passed and then brave Scouty cried, "At last! We are in the nice, fresh air again. Ah, there's the diver, too!"

"You bet," the diver cried. "And now, come on and crawl up on my scow. I already know Duncy. I'll soon know the rest of you."

My, what a scramble they all had in getting in the scow. "I am glad you took us from the sea sir," shouted Windy. "Thanks, a lot!"

The diver said, "You're welcome, son. And now we'll have a lot of fun. I'm going to open up my chest. It will thrill you, like a now."

"My, my, you have tied the top on tight. But I will get it off, all right." And, with the help of all the happy Tintines, he did.

"Now open it," cried Duncy. "Gee, I am as curious as can be." And then they all saw gold, as their friend pulled up the lid.

(The Tintines have a fine feast in the next story.)

WASHINGTON — Although the grand old game of partisan politics at the present is suffering somewhat from the doldrums, the time is not far distant when a revival of the favorite pastime may be expected.

Indeed, already there are signs of an awakening, even though they be but faint.

Iowa's Republican Senator Dickinson, addressing a luncheon club the other day, took the Roosevelt administration to task rather severely and warned that we must return to the old principles if we are to prosper.

In the east, "Big Jim" Farley is predicting that Roosevelt will be re-elected in 1936 more easily and with an even greater majority than he was in 1932. The only thing necessary, asserts the Democratic chairman, is to return to the principles expressed by the party in the early days of the nation and the continuance of the party in power "for generations to come is assured."

Hardly Surprising—Of course these two statements are the kind one would naturally expect.

Senator Dickinson will doubtless play an important part in the 1934 campaign to hold, and if possible, increase the Republican line in the Senate. And as for Mr. Farley—well, all heads of national political committees are expected to exude confidence in all seasons.

But when politics gets under way with full steam—and the grand old game will begin to gather momentum when Congress gets back in January—there's a combination in the Democratic ranks which it will be worthwhile to watch.

It's to be found in the President's own cabinet and is composed of Cordell Hull, Homer Cummings and Jim Farley—Secretary of State, Attorney General and Postmaster General, respectively.

Two former chairmen of the Democratic national committee and the man who holds down that position at the present—a trio which represents a widespread party experience of a highly practical order.

An Alert Trio—

Little has happened in the inner circles of the Democratic party in recent times with which one or the other of these men has not been intimately concerned.

It was not a planned distribution on the part of Mr. Roosevelt. The presence of Cummings is more or less an accident. He was summoned into the Department of Justice after Senator Walsh of Montana, the first choice for the post, died suddenly.

But the fact remains that the President has at his elbow, in his official family, a trio of experienced and highly practical party leaders.

THAT effective support for a city is organized support.

The difference between success and failure in making better business organization on one hand and the lack of it on the other.

Home city boosters do more than their share in developing the city. Some people do not understand and appreciate the value of the services that these boosters render.

If they want their city to keep its proper place in the world, it's about time they woke up and joined hands with them.

The object that the home city boosters have in view is making a better, bigger, brighter and busier city. They are always on the job.

If the boosters had the support they should have from their citizenship, there would be no question about the city growing. The only question would be how fast it would grow!

BOOT AND SHOE CODE REVISION WAS ORDERED

Administration Now Demands Alteration Of Terms

Washington, Aug. 29.—(AP)—A revised code of competition for the boot and shoe industry, submitted tentatively last week, today was ordered rewritten by National Recovery Administrators.

The administrators, handling the shoe code, indicated they would take direct action to hasten public hearing on a program to put idle shoe workers back at their benches.

Deputy Administrator C. C. Williams summoned the code committee of the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers Association to his office for a conference. He ordered further changes in the charter already rewritten several times since its first presentation a month ago.

The points in the code most objectionable to the recovery administration, it was reported, concerned the representation on the administrative body to be established for the industry. Williams is insisting that the coordinating agency provide representation of all shoe manufacturing interests. Other points to be changed, he said, dealt chiefly with trade practices.

The minimum wage and maximum hour provisions will be left unchanged, at least until after the public hearing. These provide for an average work week of 40 hours and minimum wages of from $12 to $13 weekly for women, and $14 to $15 for men, depending on the size of the community.

Word from Chicago informs us that all plans are completed and everything looks favorable for a large crowd at the homecoming next Monday at the camp grounds. This is the first attempt at a homecoming and it is hoped that it will be a big success. Although many years have passed since childhood pleasures and delights were in the best of old home towns, at attachments for the home of childhood are bright with pleasant and happy memories, which will be revived and renewed next Monday.

A quotation from Washington Irving is the most fitting at this time: "He who has sought renown about the world and has reaped a harvest of worldly favors, will find after all, that there is no love, no admiration, no applause, so sweet to the soul, as that which springs up in his native place. It is there that he seeks to be gathered in peace and honor among his early friends, and when the weary heart and failing head begin to warn him that the evening of life is drawing on, he turns as fondly does the infant to the mother's arms, to sink to sleep in the bosom of the scenes of his childhood." Everyone and everybody that is associated with Franklin Grove in any way is most sincerely urged to be here Labor Day to attend the homecoming and picnic dinner on the old camp meeting grounds.

Many are the friends who will wish "Wayne and Ida Bates" just lots of success in this new venture. They hope to open their new store September 1st.

the second degree of mourning and rightly so.

The East End begins at Aldgate Pump, and seems to have no end, stretching away into infinite poverty and sordidness, with Whitechapel in front on the left, and Stepney ahead on the right. A little way down the road stands Toynbee Hall, an oasis in the midst of crowded tenements, where houses are hovels and homes are variations of hell.

A journey into the East End is like entering the Inferno; one leaves hope behind—the most attractive place is the shop of an undertaker! Often a whole family live in one room, with swarms of little children playing about—some of them with faces of flower-like beauty.

Further up, opposite Spitalfield Church, is the poorest part of the district—every house an abode of vice. Here live women who once were innocent country girls, with laughing eyes and winsome ways—now they hide their shame in the slum. Others grew up with it, trained for it, doomed to it, more martyrs than sinners.

Slater Street is a kind of Canary Island, alive with birds, and it is good to hear a note of joy amid the litter and filth. Such a journey is depressing, and one returns in a mood of bitter pity, wondering how man can so mismanage his life, making it so crab so evil, so ugly and hopeless. Wondering, too, how low human beings can sink!

War on the slums—a holy war in truth! Alas, it will be easier to get men out of the slums than to get the slums out of men. But it must be done; society cannot rot at the bottom and be healthy at the top!

FOR HOME LABOR

In Monday evening's Telegraph appeared a timely advertisement entitled, "Re-employment Begins at Home." It was an emphatic protest against the present habit of the City Council in making expensive improvements at the expense of taxpayers and persons assessed thereunder, under the plea of giving employment to our own needy laborers and contractors, and then giving the jobs to outsiders.

In practice, however, the improvements made recently have resulted in employment of the minimum of local labor, most of the money used going to persons not living in Dixon.

Just now an instance of this type can be pointed out in the rebuilding of roads in the cemetery. Although the law requires that contracts for public improvements involving the expenditure of more than five hundred dollars be let to the lowest and best bidders after advertising for tenders, yet in this case, as far as I am able to learn, the Council did not advertise, but a Rockford contractor was given the job. As a result, it is said, Rockford laborers (except one), Rockford oilers and trucks are being employed, and Dixon labor and material-men are getting the "short end."

The money for the purpose, as we all know, was voted after the Mayor had first inquired whether there had been any complaint against the proposed transfer of sufficient money for the purpose from the Cemetery Endowment Fund. The donors of these gifts, all being dead, naturally did not complain. But now after the transfer has been made and bills for oil, etc., voted paid by the Mayor and two of the Council, the City Attorney very properly decides that the transfer was a breach of trust, and that these sacred funds could not be thus diverted. Under these embarrassing conditions the money thus diverted will have to be made good for out of the general fund or any other fund from which it can be borrowed. But the question still remains unanswered as to why, when there are local contractors willing to have taken this job, much cheaper than those from Rockford, and local laborers employed, such plums as this should be given to persons not residents of this city.

WHY MORE BONDS?

When the bonded indebtedness of the property owners of the City of Dixon is now approximately $600,000 for school, bridge and street improvements.

The way to lighten burdens of the taxpayers is not to bury old obligations under heaps of new ones.

Not one of the taxpayers wants parks, new street lights or wider streets—only those who profit by the same proposed.

Considerable of the land to be included in the west end park overflows, and the price of the said land, as proposed, is many times more than its actual cash value.

The property values in the past four years have depreciated more than fifty per cent, and incomes from said properties have gone down in the same proportion. Are the taxpayers in a position to take on more bonded indebtedness when their ability to pay is strained at the present time? It is time for the citizens to make their protests, if they do not their property will be lost by taxation and bonded indebtedness.

In the past four years the ability of the taxpayer has been reduced from 80 to 75 per cent.

During this time the Grand Tour Shoe Company and the Brown Shoe Company, who employed from 800 to 1000 people have closed down for an indefinite time. These people have no other means of employment, so the whole city has been affected. The city has had approximately 450 to 500 families on the welfare list. These people have been unable to pay rents. The welfare maintenance has cost the taxpayers from $3,000 to $7,000 per month.

It is financial suicide to force any more bonded indebtedness on this city at the present time. Unnecessary public construction financed through bonds is uncalled for. The Federal Government has notified all Postmasters that they must replace all lights in their offices with smaller lights and turn out all unnecessary lights. They have refused to finance the Rockford Postoffice with large lights to be placed on several expensive light posts that had been constructed for that purpose, and yet in the face of these economic conditions our City Council proposes to place an additional burden on the property owners of this city by building a boulevard light system which will cost from $25,000 to $30,000. This will bond the city for a long term of years.

The interest on bonds and maintenance of lights will be several thousand dollars a year. We are informed the Utility Company is very much in harmony with the program.

Mr. Taxpayer, you had better look around and see what the future has in store for you, or you will be in the same condition as the person who bought high priced property and placed a big mortgage on it.

The city has outlined a program to cost approximately $600,000. The bonds issued to run from 20 to 30 years, during which time the interest will equal the principal. They propose to widen the streets, create a new public park, build a new bridge, replace good streets with new ones, extend Bradshaw street, construct a new boulevard light system, build a new sewerage disposal plant, rebuild the State Hospital road, and the Lowell park road.

Civil engineers of Chicago and local engineers will be the fortunate ones, but it will cost the taxpayers around several thousand dollars, whether the proposition is defeated or not.

The plea of putting comparatively few men to work for a few months and bond the community for 25 to 30 years during which time the interest will equal the bonds, is uncalled for under present economic conditions.

From good authority it has been stated that the school taxes of this city collected for 1932 will be exhausted on or before January 1, 1934. They will be compelled to issue interest bearing orders. The interest bearing orders for the past year have just been paid.

In 1931 the teachers salaries were advanced 5 per cent as stated to the Taxpayers Association some time ago. Last winter the Taxpayers Association demanded a 25 per cent reduction in all school expenses, but the school board would reduce only 10 per cent on salaries. It seems they prefer to remain in the bright red.

The Taxpayers Association appointed a committee of five members to meet with the Board of Review, Aug. 22, asking for a reduction of 25 per cent on all property values in the county. The members of the Board admitted the property values in this county were too high but it would be impossible to reduce the assessed valuation at the present time because of the bonds outstanding in the city of Dixon and throughout the county. A reduced valuation would make it impossible to meet the payment of the same.

Because of the over-assessed valuation the property owners of this county are paying approximately $40,000 more state tax than they should.

But it seems, as stated in a recent article, anything to get the money by our tax spenders, as they are bubbling over with civic pride, as long as the taxpayer has to pay the bill.

Mr. Taxpayer, how do you like it? Give the public officials your answer.

(Signed) Taxpayer.

ENGLAND AT WAR!

(By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton)

How the words thrilled us nineteen years ago, beginning a cavalcade tragedy! They ought to thrill us even more today, as they flash in the London papers, "England declares war on the slums!"—those gaunt, God-forsaken slums where human beings rot.

The news takes me back across the years, down into the East End of London, to the House of Service where the City Temple does social work. It is a dismal district, a vast human swamp, a maze of mean streets and meaner by-ways, a maze of the unblessed dead, all in one color, dull gray—
